Houghton Lake, Michigan

This 1966-67 school year is very nearly at its close. For some, as the seniors, this year went by just too rapidly. To the underclassmen the year is usually slowed down by the thought of coming back again the following fall. This annual holds fond memories of people and activities that, because the year went by as quickly as it did, you don't seem to remember in just your mind alone. We in the annual staff want this book to be cherished as a memento of great friends and good times.

This years annual staff worked hard from before the school year began right up until the last deadline was met. Many hours were put in even after school in order that the Houghton Lake "Bobcat" would come off the presses according to schedule. We in the annual staff feel we have done our best in giving to you a better annual than the previous years.

The 21st Sno-Ball Comes into Being

The fifteen candidates were: Loraine Wallington, Teresa Tiffin, Darlene Euler, Mary Kay Harris, Elaine Dieterich, Gail Soderman, Donna Pifer, Joanne Pray, Soivi Savikko, Jane Legge, Janice Martin, and Karen Jones. Not pictured were: Kay Bowman, Mary Wescott, and Lee Wild.

The twenty-first annual Sno-Ball began with the talent show of all senior girls vying for the title of "Miss Houghton Lake 1967."

The sixteen girls were introduced to the student body as potential finalists. The six finalists were chosen by a panel of three judges. These finalists were: Karen Jones, Joanne Pray, Darlene Euler, Donna Pifer, Elaine Dieterich, and Janice Martin.

The Sno-Ball was a beautiful event with the theme "Northern Lights" carried out in beautiful detail. Music was provided by "The Highlites" of M.S.U.

Miss Houghton Lake of 1966, Marcia Kay Forman, and the Prince, Phillip Archer and Princess, Connie Wyckoff, ascended the throne to watch over the coronation festivities, as the candidates made their final promenade around the gymnasium.

Before an excited crowd Miss Janice Martin was chosen "Miss Houghton Lake of 1967".

Gifts were presented each girl, as well as various gifts for the queen.

Queen Janice led the traditional Grand March, and more dancing and music followed, thus ending another successful Sno-Ball.

As seniors, we would like to thank those who unselfishly have given so much of themselves to us during our high school years. Certainly we know that all the people that kept encouraging us to finish high school tried and have succeeded in making us realize just how important an education is. At this time it is almost mandatory that a person has at least a high school education in order to secure a job in practically every field of employment. We feel that we are now ready to take on the many responsibilities we will be faced with in the years to come.
